CHAIRPERSON'S MESSAGE

STATEMENT OF CONTINUED SUPPORT

I am pleased to present the Communication on Progress of John Keells Holdings PLC (JKH) for the financial year ended 31 March 2022.

Whilst the year under review was extremely challenging due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the prevailing macroeconomic crisis in the country, JKH reported a strong performance during the year, which was a significant improvement over the previous year, with all businesses witnessing a robust recovery momentum as the pandemic related challenges dissipated towards the second half of the year.

The resilient performance of JKH during the year is attributed to the loyal and committed employees whom I wish to acknowledge with gratitude during yet another year of many challenges.

JKH, as a socially responsible corporate citizen, remains fully committed to make a positive difference in the communities that we operate in. As a participant of the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) we ensure that the development activities at JKH are aligned to the UNGC Principles, the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and national priorities, ensuring a collective and targeted focus towards addressing key universal needs for the holistic development of people, focusing on the three dimensions of sustainable development - economic growth, social inclusion, and environmental protection.

During the year under review, several initiatives were undertaken to further strengthen JKH's governance framework and controls. JKH continued with its multi-pronged approach to internal audits and process reviews by augmenting its integrated fraud deterrent and investigation framework to foster synergy and collaboration efficiencies between components that deliver governance and assurance and related services, in facilitating business strategies. In addition, JKH continued to strengthen its Information Technology governance framework through the adoption of a Zero Trust Policy Framework.

The value creation process of JKH has been built around our loyal and committed employees, and I wish to acknowledge, with gratitude, the contribution and commitment of our employees during yet another year of many challenges. The agile work practices and policies of JKH enabled and facilitated a conducive work environment for our teams during the pandemic and social unrest, and to support the hardships faced by employees on account of rising prices and the scarcity of basic essential items, a decision was taken to provide a one-off, uniform financial care package in the form of an ex-gratia payment, to all eligible employees, during the month of April 2022, thereby taking a significant step in assisting the John Keells family during these challenging times. JKH continued to enhance our commitment towards Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DE&I) under the brand 'ONE JKH' with the aim of increasing women participation in the workforce and to provide career opportunities to persons with disabilities and being inclusive of the LGBTIQ+ community.

JKH's well entrenched sustainability management framework continued to ensure the sustainability considerations remain an integral part of all business operations. This framework guides the Company to integrate financial performance alongside efficient Natural environmental management, through practices such as conservation of natural resources, emissions management, and responsible waste disposal, while investing in its workforce through training and development of its diverse employee base and maintaining a safe working environment. This enables JKH to reach beyond its own boundary to develop the community, through ensuring the highest standards of product stewardship, conducting operations with the highest levels of ethical standards and supporting its supply chain partners to better their own sustainability performances.

JKH remains resolutely committed to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), which is an integral part of the Company's business ethos – particularly being cognizant of the post-pandemic and socio-economic challenges prevalent during the reporting year. All projects under our six focus areas for CSR - Education, Health, Environment, Livelihood Development, Arts and Culture and Disaster Relief - are inspired and sustained by our CSR vision of 'Empowering the Nation for Tomorrow'. Employee volunteerism continued to be a key component enabling our staff to actively engage in community empowerment and service whilst benefiting from the related sense of fulfilment and opportunities to further their own personal growth. The CSR initiatives of JKH are centrally planned and implemented by John Keells Foundation (JKF) - a company limited by guarantee which is also registered as a 'Voluntary Social Service Organisation' under the laws of Sri Lanka, and its CSR plans are reviewed and restructured for practical implementation within applicable protocols and restrictions. Amid the unprecedented and socio-economic post-pandemic challenges, JKF undertook several initiatives under its location-centric empowerment programme 'John Keells Praja Shakthi' in which the key highlights were formalizing plans for a Street Market as a community livelihood development initiative with a focus on women and ongoing capacity development of Batik artisans in Hikkaduwa. Several child and youth development programmes under the focus area of Education were carried out including the launch of the pilot programme of John Keells Digital Learning Initiative which aims to facilitate online based education of disadvantaged school children by providing digital devices and data packages, and the continuation of the English Language Scholarship Programme for the 18th consecutive year offering 653 English and ICT scholarships for disadvantaged school children. While community awareness programmes on Gender Based Violence, Child Protection and Substance Abuse Prevention took place to holistically upkeep the health and well-being of society, JKH continued to support the Arts & Culture of Sri Lanka by organizing 'Kala Pola online' to support local visual artists and through primary sponsorships to related arts institutions. JKF also donated COVID-related equipment and consumables to support the efforts and enhance the capacity of Government hospitals.

During the period, there were no departures from any of the provisions of the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics of the Code of Best Practice of Corporate Governance, jointly advocated by the Securities and Exchange Commission of Sri Lanka and the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Sri Lanka. The Company's commitment to upholding Company policies, where emphasis is placed on ethical and legal dealings, zero tolerance for corruption, bribery and any form of harassment or discrimination in the workplace and any work-related situations is also affirmed. In affirmation of this commitment, JKH was ranked first in the Transparency in Corporate Reporting (TRAC) Assessment by Transparency International Sri Lanka (TISL) for the second consecutive year.

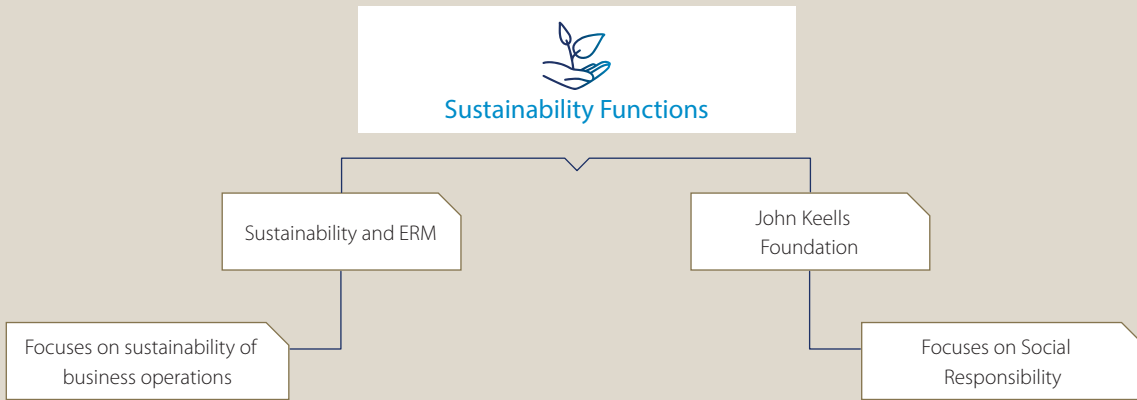

With this communication, I on behalf of JKH's Board of Directors wish to reaffirm that we remain committed to making the UNGC and its principles a part of our corporate strategy, culture and day-to-day operations of our company and to maintain integrity, ethical dealings, sustainable development and greater social responsibility in a multi-stakeholder context.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of John Keells Holdings PLC,

Krishan Balendra
Chairperson-CEO

ENVIRONMENT

Principle 7:

Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;

Principle 8:

Undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and

Principle 9:

Encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

ENVIRONMENT

JKH strongly believes that a sound Natural Capital management strategy is of vital importance for long-term sustainable value creation. As such, the Company has in place a comprehensive environmental management system which focuses on policies and procedures that ensure sustainable principles are embedded in business operations and operations are conducted in a sustainable manner with minimum impact on the environment. These include energy conservation, introduction of renewable energy, carbon footprint reduction, optimisation of water usage, responsible waste management and conservation of biodiversity. JKH has identified material areas to minimise any negative impacts and externalities, and constantly strives to implement initiatives to conserve natural resources and create value for all stakeholders. JKH is aware that it is a custodian of the environment for future generations and, as such, takes best efforts to minimise negative environmental impacts and ensure compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.

JKH has in place routine guidelines for data measurements; electricity and fossil fuel consumption is metered, with calibration of such meters carried out regularly. While water withdrawal is also measured through meters, wastewater discharge is measured through meter readings as well as estimates. Waste generated is also largely based on estimates. Carbon emissions are derived in accordance with the greenhouse gas protocol by the World Resources Institute (WRI) and the World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD). The calculations use the carbon emission factor source of the IPCC guidelines or local guidelines where available, for national greenhouse gas inventories, published by the Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES) and includes only CO<sub>2</sub>.

ENERGY AND CARBON FOOTPRINT

JKH strives to conserve energy through embracing lean energy management practices and replacement of fixtures with energy efficient alternatives and adopts the use of renewable sources of energy where possible and applicable.

The main contributors to the Company's carbon footprint were electricity from the national grid and diesel usage similar to previous years.

JKH continues to work towards sustainability goals which are established at business level to be achieved by 2025 to further strengthen its environmental commitment.

WATER MANAGEMENT

JKH seeks to conserve and optimise its use of water obtained from surface and ground water sources and wherever possible seeks to re-use wastewater after treatment with a view to reducing the intake of fresh water.

JKH continued to roll-out initiatives with the aim of conserving water and worked on multiple awareness creation programmes whilst continuously monitoring and measuring usage from all sources such as ground water, inland surface water bodies, oceans, and pipe-borne water from the National Water Supply and Drainage Board sources. All water withdrawn by the Company is from non-water stressed areas.

ENVIRONMENT

WASTE MANAGEMENT

Waste management at JKH is based upon the tenets of Reduce, Reuse, Recycle and encourages its employees and stakeholders to be mindful in terms of reducing generation and to reuse and recycle wherever possible. Waste generated by the Company is segregated as hazardous and non-hazardous waste and classified and tracked based on the disposal method. Hazardous waste is disposed through specialised third-party contractors whilst JKH encourages non-hazardous waste to be disposed through methods such as reducing, reuse, recycling, recovery and composting rather than directing waste to landfill as much as possible.

Zero Waste Day

Similar to the previous years, JKH continued the Zero Waste Day initiative which aims to discourage employees from bringing single-use plastic to work and their homes. As a part of this initiative, various awareness creation strategies were deployed, including suggestions to minimise waste at home and the workplace, information on alternatives and facts relating to waste and other sustainability related best practices which were communicated to employees regularly via online platforms.

JKH Policy

The Company places the highest value on ethical practices and has promulgated a zero-tolerance policy towards corruption and bribery in all its transactions and strives to maintain a culture of honesty and opposition to fraud and corruption. Based on this commitment, the Code of Conduct, anti-fraud, fraud prevention, anti-corruption, anti-bribery, validation and audit policies, amongst many others, outline the principles to which the Company is committed in relation to preventing, reporting and managing fraud and corruption. It covers inter alia, theft, embezzlement, overriding controls, giving or receiving kickbacks, bribery, allowing oneself to be placed in situations of conflict of interest and statements (financial or non-financial) dishonestly and recklessly made contrary to the factual position. ## Training

When Directors are newly appointed to the Board, they undergo a comprehensive induction where they are apprised, inter alia, of JKH Values and culture, its operating model, policies, governance framework and processes, the Code of Conduct and the operational strategies of JKH.

At the employee level, every employee agrees to comply with JKH's Code of Conduct, when accepting the terms and conditions of employment. As all executive and above staff need to complete a mandatory learning course on the policies, which is carried out through the Learning Management System, all employees are familiarised with the conditions of JKH's Anti-Corruption policy which also extends to any agents who are authorised representatives of JKH and are educated on human rights practices. Employees are also expected to report any breach of the Code with the assurance of discretion and employees are provided with a number of channels to facilitate such reporting, such as Chairperson Direct, Ombudsperson service and business unit-specific grievance handling process.

All policies of the Company are readily available to employees in the primary languages used in the country i.e. in Sinhala, Tamil and English.

Value Chain

In dealing with its value chain, JKH ensures transparency and fair practices, fostering mutually beneficial relationships based on open communication that stress the importance of business partners adhering to the ethical standards that underlie all business practices.

Further, a comprehensive selection process is carried out for JKH's key suppliers by JKH's Group Initiatives Division which involves evaluation committees including independent category managers and neutral parties. All suppliers that are selected are contractually bound to adhere to JKH's Supplier Code of Conduct which covers human rights and anti-corruption expectations and are required to submit their audited financial statements for the two most recent financial years upon registration. Further, if it is discovered that the supplier has violated the Supplier Code of Conduct, including anti-corruption breaches, it becomes a reason for termination of contracts and cessation of dealings.

In line with best sustainability practices inspired by the United Nations Global Compact, all contracts have clauses which disallow fraud and corruption amongst others.

- Chairperson-Direct
- Continuous reiteration and the practice of the 'open-door' policy

Additionally, JKH continued with its whistle-blower policy and securities trading policy. JKH has witnessed an increased level of communication flow from employees. Such communication and feedback received from the employees by the management are recorded, irrespective of the level of anonymity, and subsequently discussed and followed up. The respective outcomes are duly recorded.

The Corporate Governance System

JKH's framework has its own set of internal benchmarks, processes and structures towards meeting accepted best practice, in addition to the 'triggers' which ensure compliance with mandatory regulatory requirements. This framework is regularly reviewed and updated to reflect global best practice, evolving regulations, and dynamic stakeholder needs, whilst maintaining its foundational principles of accountability, participation and transparency. JKH's Corporate Governance System plays a pivotal role in ensuring the implementation of Company policies and regulatory requirements, including policies aimed at fostering anti-corruption, anti-bribery, fraud prevention, anti-money laundering, among others, and also acts as an assurance mechanism with inbuilt internal controls.

The diagram below illustrates the key components of the Corporate Governance System of JKH. It depicts the internal governance structure, from the Board of Directors cascading down to employee level, the integrated governance systems and procedures within the Company, the assurance mechanisms in place and the various regulatory frameworks JKH is compliant with from a Governance standpoint.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

- All 5 Board Sub-Committees are chaired by Independent Directors appointed by the Board.
- The Chairperson-CEO is present at all Human Resources and Compensation Committee meetings unless the Chairperson-CEO's performance assessment or remuneration is under discussion. The Deputy Chairperson/Group Finance Director is invited as necessary.
- Audit Committee meetings are attended by the Chairperson-CEO and the Deputy Chairperson/Group Finance Director. The Head of Group Business Process Review, External Auditors and the Group Financial Controller are regular attendees.
- The GOC acts as the binding agent to the various businesses within the Group towards identifying and extracting Group synergies.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

The Assurance Mechanisms as illustrated above, comprise the various supervisory, monitoring and benchmarking elements of the Corporate Governance System. These mechanisms also act as 'safety nets' and internal checks in the Governance system. The Company also conducts internal and external audits on a periodic basis, annually at minimum. Doing so, aids the Company to identify and address potential areas of concern whilst addressing stakeholder requirements.

Regular Monitoring and Risk Assessment

JKH has procedures and processes to enable the prevention, mitigation and reduction of corruption. JKH assesses the risk of corruption as part of its risk management process and puts in place mitigation measures to reduce such risks.

Independent auditors and Management Committees continually review policies and assess the risk of non-compliance regarding corruption. All functions have a process for the prevention and reduction of corruption and are required to include and analyse the risk of corruption as part of their risk management process.

To ensure compliance, reviews are carried out at Management Committee level whilst instances of noncompliance (if any) are formally disclosed to those tasked with governance and oversight on a quarterly basis. Whilst external compliance audits for JKH are carried out annually, independent process reviews are carried out periodically, to assess the efficacy of process and related controls to continuously improve the risk management, controls and compliance posture of the Company.

The JKH Board, Group Executive Committee and Group Management Committees oversee risk management to ensure that risks are brought within tolerance, managed and/or mitigated.

The risk review programme covering the internal audit is outsourced as noted in the ensuing section. Reports arising out of such audits are, post review by the relevant Management Committees and Group Finance Director, forwarded to the Audit Committee of the Board on a regular basis. Further, the Audit Committee also assesses the effectiveness of the risk review process and systems of internal control on a regular basis. The Audit Committee also receives regular reports on the adequacy and effectiveness of internal controls in the Company, compliance with laws and regulations and established policies and procedures of the Company.

On the employee front, employees are also assessed with regard to whether or not they embrace those values set out in JKH's Code of Conduct as a part of the performance appraisal cycle.

Internal Controls

The Board has taken necessary steps to ensure the integrity of the Company's accounting and financial reporting systems and that internal control systems remain robust and effective via the review and monitoring of such systems on a periodic basis. A quarterly self-certification programme remains in place to confirm compliance with statutory and other regulatory procedures, and also to identify any significant deviations from the expected norms.

The Company has in place an integrated fraud deterrent and investigation framework which enables an integrated platform for handling all aspects of fraud and stakeholder assurance; reinforces uniformity across common processes in matters relating to fraud; employs a data driven approach to the continuous assessment of control efficacy and assesses and deploys appropriate preventive and detective controls against frauds. The digital system for quarterly financial and operational information management, implemented last year, continues to perform as per expectations facilitating data capturing for compliance reporting, providing a sustainable and structured mechanism to enable top-down and bottom-up stakeholder engagement, and tracking the progression of how the compliance posture at entity level has evolved, among others. The Forestpin 'Internal Audit Scoping' continues to be used to identify areas for process optimisation, strengthening controls and in feedback reporting to reinforce governance (management) and assurance structures.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

The Company is very aware of the need to ensure that no individual has excessive system access to execute transactions across an entire business process or business processes which have critical approval linkages, in the context that increasing use of information technology and integrated financial controls creates unintended exposures within the Company. Segregation of Duties (SoD) dictates that problems such as fraud, material misstatements and manipulation of financial statements have the potential to arise when the same individual is able to execute two or more conflicting, sensitive transactions. Separating disparate jobs into task-oriented roles can often result in inefficiencies and costs which do not meet the cost versus benefit criteria. Whilst the attainment of a zero SoD conflict state is utopian, the Company continues to take steps, to identify and evaluate existing conflicts and reduce residual risks to an acceptable level under a cost versus benefit rationale. No material conflicts were reported during the year.

The Company's internal audit process is conducted by outsourced parties at regular intervals. Whilst there are merits and demerits associated with outsourcing an internal audit, the Company is of the view that having an external based auditor is more advantageous. However, there are certain industries in which the Company has interests in, where the domain is very operationally specific and requires an internal auditor in addition to the external auditor.

Strengthening the Governance Framework and Controls

During the year under review, several initiatives were undertaken to further strengthen JKH's governance framework and controls:

- JKH continued with its multi-pronged approach to internal audits and process reviews by augmenting its integrated fraud deterrent and investigation framework to foster synergy and collaboration efficiencies between components that deliver governance and assurance and related services, in facilitating business strategies.
- The Company continued to strengthen its IT governance framework through the adoption of a Zero Trust Policy Framework effective 1 April 2022, including shifting to a hybrid-cloud infrastructure as well as a Software Defined Wide Area Network (SD-WAN) to ensure real-time data accessibility, and implementation of a revamped Smart Office platform.
- Internal audits and external audits were conducted during the year under review.

During the year under review, JKH was ranked first in the Transparency in Corporate Reporting (TRAC) Assessment by Transparency International Sri Lanka (TISL) for the second consecutive year. JKH was the only entity to obtain a 100 per cent score for transparency in disclosure practices. This ranking is based on an assessment of corporate disclosure practices among the top 75 public limited companies listed on the CSE under three different thematic areas crucial to fighting and preventing corruption:

- Reporting on anti-corruption programmes
- Transparency in company holdings
- Disclosure of key financial information in domestic operations.

OUTLOOK

Anti-Fraud, Anti-Corruption and Anti-Bribery

As outlined above, the Company places the highest value on ethical practices and has promulgated a zero-tolerance policy towards corruption and bribery in all its transactions and strives to maintain a culture of honesty as opposition to fraud and corruption. The Company seeks to ensure that ethical business practices are the norm across the Company, down to the individual employee. Its transparent control and prevention mechanisms also extend to its value chain, to its customers, suppliers, business partners and most importantly, to all subsidiaries and equity accounted investees of the Company.

The Company will continue its stance of zero-tolerance towards corruption and bribery in all its transactions and foster transparency and honesty in all business dealings, whilst continually developing its governance frameworks in line with international best practice. The Company's continuous effort to strengthen transparency in Corporate Reporting is evident by JKH being placed first for the second consecutive year in the Transparency in Corporate Reporting (TRAC) Assessment by Transparency International Sri Lanka (TISL) 2021, whilst being the only entity to obtain a full overall score for transparency in disclosure practices among the top 75 Public Limited Companies listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange.

Increasing Emphasis on Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Aspects

ESG analysis and investing continue to gain traction amongst Governments, investment professionals and high net worth investors, given the aim of reducing negligent and irresponsible corporate behaviour that may have an adverse impact on the environment, harm human rights and foster corruption and bribery, among others, and disintegrate the corporate in the long-term. The unprecedented nature of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impacts globally have accelerated and intensified such discussions on the inter-linkages between sustainability considerations and financial performance

JKH is of the view that emphasis on ESG fosters a 360-degree analysis of performance and enables a sustainable business model, which can derive value to all stakeholders. Various measures have been, and are, in place, to ensure a holistic view of performance including managing scarce natural resources, enhancing the well-being of all stakeholders, and ensuring effective governance mechanisms. Such metrics are revisited regularly during decision-making. Initiatives such as the strengthening of internal controls are implemented with a view of ensuring a strong ESG framework. The Company will stay abreast of developments in this regard and continue to integrate ESG elements with business strategy, operations and in reporting.

Subsequent to the private placement of Company shares to the Asian Development Bank (ADB) in January 2022, and ADB's investment mandate pursuant to which private sector projects must have clear development impacts and positive externalities, particularly in ESG aspects, JKH will leverage on ADB's technical expertise to further enhance the Company's existing ESG processes and frameworks to reach best in class benchmarks. Whilst the Company has undertaken many initiatives in this regard, the involvement of a strategic partner such as ADB will significantly augment the current initiatives across the Company and enable a rapid scale up given its strong expertise and experience in this area.

Continual Strengthening of Internal Controls

Augmenting transactional and financial internal controls with operational aspects, in line with international best practice, remains a medium-term priority for the Company. Continuous strengthening of internal controls through a streamlined process that optimises and facilitates process audit information, life cycle management and related processes are expected to:

- eliminate inefficiencies inherent in manual processes.
- provide a platform based on process enforcement.
- enable management follow-up based on centrally held data in a compliance repository.
- identify trends, action taken, effectiveness and opportunities for process improvement by analysing movement of the compliance posture.

Digital Oversight and Cyber Security

Whilst the rapidly advancing nature of technology and the continual integration of the Company's operations with technological progress has enhanced and streamlined processes and controls across the Company and opened up opportunities, it has resulted in increased vulnerability for the Company from a digital standpoint. As a result, the Board places significant emphasis on ensuring that JKH's soft and hard infrastructure is designed in a manner, and adequate, to deal with a potential breach. Data protection and cyber security are regularly addressed during the Risk Management and Audit Committee meetings and periodically discussed at a Board level. Features such as the provision of timely alerts on action plans and escalation processes for risks, where action plans are over-due, ensure maintenance of live risk grids.

Data Protection, Information Management and Adoption

The presence of continuously evolving IT infrastructure and platforms to meet requirements of day-to-day business, augured well for the Company, particularly given restrictions in movement during the year and social distancing measures in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Company witnessed an acceleration of digitisation and better user adoption. Despite this, adoption of such systems and features remain at a relatively early stage across the Company and is a key focus area for the Company.

Given the emergence of regulations such as European Union General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Sri Lankan Personal Data Protection Act No. 9 of 2022, data security, integrity and information management will be pivotal. In addition to this, JKH's initiatives on advanced data analytics also necessitate an established governance framework to manage the flow of data. To this end, the Company will continue to strengthen its data governance structure to ensure ownership and accountability of clearly articulated data governance policies and processes and Company-wide data quality standards.
